

2008 No-till Cover Crop Workshop

This one day event will address the “why” of planting a cover crop, the “how” to incorporate cover crops in no-till systems, and the “what” to plant for a cover crop to achieve the desired objectives on your farm.

This workshop features farmer speakers that will give their experiences with cover crops grown for enhancing soil health and grazing opportunities.

Other presentations will include information on herbicide carryover prior to planting a cover crop, Farm Service Agency program regulations, and crop insurance requirements when planting certain cover crops.
